Head Coach Dawn Chamberlin

Dawn Chamberlin completed her 14th season as head coach of the Salisbury State University field hockey program in 2000 with another championship season to add to her long list of accomplishments with the Sea Gulls. Chamberlin, who already ranks among the most successful coaches in school history, completed her 14th season with a 17-4 record while guiding the Sea Gulls to the national semifinals of the NCAA Championship Tournament and also claiming their sixth straight conference championship.

Since her first season in 1987, the Sea Gulls have qualified for the NCAA Tournament 13 times, with four appearances in the Final Four. In addition, Salisbury hosted the Final Four for the first time in 2000. The program has produced 25 national All-Americans and 61 all-region players during Chamberlin's tenure. SSU's 188-71-8 record under Chamberlin translates to a winning percentage of .719.

Chamberlin, who registered her 150th career victory with a 4-0 shutout at Goucher during the 1998 season, has been honored as the NFHCA South Region Coach-of-the-Year three of the last seven years. She has also been named the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year in each of the past six seasons. The Sea Gulls carry a 43-game CAC winning streak into the 2001 season.

Chamberlin is a 1985 graduate of the University of Iowa, where she was a four-year letterwinner on the highly successful field hockey team. The Hawkeyes won the Big Ten championship outright from 1981 to 1983, before sharing the top spot in 1984. The '84 squad finished second in the nation. Chamberlin, Iowa's co-captain as both a junior and senior, was also a member of the national indoor championship team and was selected to the All-Big Ten team during her senior year.

While at Iowa, she also received the Women's Intercollegiate Athletic Academic Award (1982-1985) and the Physical Education Academic Achievement Award (1983-1985). Chamberlin earned her Masters of Education from Salisbury State in 1987 and her doctorate from the University of Maryland in 2000.

A Tradition of Success

During the past 15 years, Salisbury State has emerged as one of the premier field hockey programs among NCAA Division III institutions. The Sea Gulls are one of just eight schools to have captured the national championship since its inception in 1981, claiming the top prize with an undefeated 21-0 campaign in 1986. Since their first visit to the NCAA postseason tournament in 1984, the Sea Gulls have become a regular contender for the national title, with appearances in 16 of the last 17 NCAA postseason tournaments through the 2000 season.

In addition to the national championship in 1986, Salisbury has advanced to the Final Four on four other occasions, finishing as a national semifinalist in 1987, 1988, 1992 and 2000. Additionally, the Sea Gulls have been national quarterfinalists four other times since 1989. Salisbury's outstanding facility has also served as a regional host site for the national championship tournament on four occasions, including in both 1996 and 1997, and host of the Final Four in 2000.

The Sea Gulls notched 10 consecutive winning seasons from 1983 to 1992, and finished in the top ten in the final rankings in each of those seasons. The Sea Gulls finished the 1997 regular season as the number one ranked team in the final NCAA Division III national poll, and placed fourth in the final poll of 2000. SSU has reached double-figures in wins in 16 of the last 18 seasons, and has averaged 14 wins per year during Dawn Chamberlin's 14 seasons as head coach.

In five seasons as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference, the Sea Gulls have compiled a 47-2 record. SSU won its sixth straight CAC crown in 2000 and carries a 43-game conference winning streak into the 2001 season.

Quality programs are comprised of talented individuals. Salisbury State is well represented on the national and regional all star teams each season. During Chamberlin's tenure, the Sea Gulls have produced 25 national All Americans and had a total of 61 players selected to the all-South Region team. Additionally, Chamberlin has been honored as the region's Coach-of-the-Year four times and the Capital Athletic Conference's Coach of the Year six times, including 2000.

SSU's Athletics Philosophy

Salisbury State University, a member of the National Collegiate Athletic Association's (NCAA) Division III, offers 19 intercollegiate sports for men and women. In addition to NCAA membership, SSU competes as a member of the Capital Athletic Conference (CAC) and the Eastern College Athletic Conference (ECAC).

As a member of the NCAA's Division III, Salisbury State places the highest priority on the overall quality of the educational experience. In doing so, it seeks to strengthen the integration of objectives and programs in athletics with academic and developmental objectives, and to assure the integration of athletes with other students.

SSU places special importance on the impact of athletics on the participants, with emphasis on the internal constituency (students, alumni and special friends) rather than on the general public and its entertainment needs.

The SSU athletics program is further characterized by the following principles:

- Participants receive the same treatment as other students. They have no unique privileges in admission, academic advising, course selection, grading, living accommodations or financial aid. Similarly, athletes are not denied rights and opportunities that would be available to them as non-athletes.
- Sports for men and women are given equal emphasis and the desired quality of competition is similar in all sports.
- Students are supported in their efforts to reach high levels of performance by providing them with adequate facilities, competent coaching and appropriate competitive opportunities with students from similar institutions.
- SSU strives to make the student-athlete's participation in intercollegiate athletics an enriching experience, and holds genuine concern for each participant's welfare. The intercollegiate program's foremost goal at all times is to supplement and enrich the first priority of the University, which is academic accomplishment.
